

The British Army

Am

When I was young I used to be

G

As fine a man as ever you'd see

Am

Till the Prince of Wales he said to me:

G Am

"Come and join the British army"

Toora loora loora loo,

They're looking for monkeys up at the zoo

And says I: "If I had a face like you,

I'd join the British army"

Oh Sarah Conlon baked a cake, 'Twas all for poor ol' Slattery's sake

She threw herself into the lake, Pretending she was barmy

Chorus

Corporal Daly went away, His wife got in the family way

And the only thing that she could say, Was: "Blame the British army"

Chorus

Corporal Kelly's a terrible drought, Just give him a couple of jars of stout

And he'll beat the enemy with his mouth, And save the British army

Chorus

Kilted soldiers wear no drawers, Won't you kindly lend them yours

The rich must always help the poor, To save the British army

Chorus

When I was young I used to be, As fine a man as ever you'd see

Till the Prince of Wales he said to me: "Come and join the British army"

Toora loora loora loo, They're looking for monkeys up at the zoo

And says I: "If I had a face like you, I'd ... the British army"
